The preparation of this index to contributors to the first fifty volumes of the Society's Proceedings was commenced in 1924 when the Society was about to celebrate its Jubilee. The need of some such index was apparent and it was felt that, in the form in which it is now published, the index would be a valuable guide to the Proceedings and would enable those engaged in research in Natural History to locate, with comparative ease, papers dealing with any particular subject in which they might be interested.

The Index contains (i) an alphabetical index of the authors who have contributed papers to the Proceedings, with title of paper and reference to year and page; (ii) a subject index compiled from the titles of the papers, with references to author and year; (iii) an alphabetical index to exhibitors of specimens, etc., at the meetings of the Society; and (iv) an index to the obituary notices which have appeared in the Proceedings from time to time.

For the sake of simplicity in quotation, references have been made uniformly to the year for which the volume of Proceedings was issued, though at least one part of the volume was for many years issued early in the succeeding year. In order that the actual date of publication of any paper may be obtained without difficulty a list has been prepared (pp. v-vii) showing, for each Part of the Proceedings, the number of pages and the date of publication. For example:—

Etheridge, R. Junr. Note on the Bibliography of Lord Howe Island. 1889, 627, appeared (as seen by reference to the list, p. v) in the Proceedings for 1889, i.e., Vol. iv (2nd Series), Part 3, published on 3rd February, 1890.

In the compilation of Part i, use was made of the List of Contributors to the First Series (Vols. i-x) of the Proceedings, published by the Society in 1887, as well as of incomplete manuscript lists prepared, from time to time, by the late J. J. Fletcher. Part ii has been almost entirely compiled by Miss G. L. Allpress.

A. B. WALKOM,
Secretary.

ii. INDEX TO SUBJECTS OF PAPERS.

References are to Author and year in part i of this index, thus for paper on Abercrombie Caves look under Wilkinson in part i for paper published in the Proceedings for 1879.

The letters n. g. and n. sp. are used in this index to show that the description of new genera or species is indicated in the title of a paper.

- Abercrombie Caves, Wilkinson, 1879.
- Ablepharus*, n. sp. (Victoria), Lucas and Frost, 1896.
- Aboriginal, Dolichocephalic skull, Maclay, 1883—food, Bancroft, 1894—grave, Darling River District, N.S.W., Officer, 1901—implement, believed to be undescribed, Etheridge, 1894—Lachlan District, skull, Maclay, 1883—rock-shelters, Port Hacking, Harper, 1899—stone weapons and implements, Etheridge, 1890-1893—tribes, Ngarrabul and other, medical and surgical practice and distribution, Macpherson, 1904.
- Aboriginals, debouchement of Sulcus Rolando into Fissura Sylvii in brains, Maclay, 1884.
- Aborigines, Albert District, N.S.W., customs, Wilkinson, 1883—drawings by, Cox, 1878—"Widow's Cap", Etheridge, 1899.
- Acacia*, apparently n. sp. (N.S.W.), Maiden and Baker, 1894—Brunswick River, Maiden, 1895—Cambagei, calcium oxalate in, Steel, T., 1921—lanigera, Baker, 1895—n. sp., Baker, 1897; Blakely, 1917; Maiden, 1901; Maiden and Baker, 1893; Mueller and Maiden, 1893—n. sp. (N.S.W.), Maiden and Baker, 1895; Mueller, 1892—prominens, Baker, 1891—pruinosa, Baker, 1892—pugioniformis, Baker, 1892—subulata, Baker, 1893.
- Acacias, Australian Phyllodineous, correct interpretation of the so-called phyllodes, Fletcher, 1920—yellow colouring matter, Petrie, J.M., 1923.
- Acantholophus*, Ferguson, 1921.
- Acanthophis*, supposed n. sp., North Australia, Ramsay, 1877—antarctica, osteology and myology, McKay, 1889.
- Acarid, new type, Haswell, 1922.
- Acids from cultures, extraction, Smith, R. G., 1921.
- Actinotus Paddisoni*, n. sp., Baker, 1905.
- Adelium*, Carter, 1908.
- Aeschnidae, Australian, n. sp., Tillyard, 1906.
- Aeschnidopsis flindersiensis*, Rolling Downs Series, Tillyard, 1917.
- Agaricus*, n. sp., W. Australia, Kalchbrenner, 1882—campestris, occurrence of an inverted hymenium, Smith, G. P. D., 1918.
- Agglutination, mechanism, Smith, R. G., 1900, 1902—role of, in immunity, Smith, R.G., 1905.
- Agricere of soil, Smith, R. G., 1911.
- Agrionidae, Australian, dimorphism in females, Tillyard, 1907—n. sp., Tillyard, 1906—n. sp., and rare, Tillyard, 1912.
- Agromyza phaseoli*, n. sp., Coquillett, 1899.
- Air, alveolar, change of composition after stoppage of normal breathing, Wardlaw, 1916—alveolar, effect of suspended respiration on composition, Wardlaw, 1922—expired alveolar, composition, Pinkerton, 1917—expired alveolar, percentage of carbon dioxide in, Pinkerton, 1917.
- "Air-gas" for bacteriological work, Katz, 1889.
- Alcyone pulchra*, nesting, North, 1888.
- Alder-flies, Australian, n. g. et n. sp., Tillyard, 1918.
- Aldrovanda vesiculosa*, probable occurrence in N.S.W., Mueller, 1889.
- Alga forming pseudomorph of a siliceous sponge, Lendenfeld, 1885.
- Algae, freshwater, Playfair, 1923—freshwater, Lismore District, Playfair, 1915—freshwater, n. sp., Playfair, 1918—marine, Australian, Lucas, A. H. S., 1912, 1913, 1919—n. sp., Lucas, A. H. S., 1919—marine, gases present in floats (vesicles), Lucas, A. H. S., 1911—Siphonaceous, cytology and phylogeny, Williams, 1925.
- Alkaline, Petrographical Province, Eastern Australia, Jensen, 1908—rocks, distribution, origin and relationships, Jensen, 1908.
- Alkaloid, new midriatic, Petrie, J. M., 1907.

- Allantoplacenta, marsupial, phylogenetic significance, Flynn, 1922.
- Allopora*, n. sp., Woods, 1882.
- Alsophila*, N.S.W. species, Woolls, 1881.
- Amarygmides, Blackburn, 1892.
- Amarygmus*, Blackburn, 1893.
- Amoeba parasitica*, Lendenfeld, 1885.
- Amphibolurus muricatus*, vestigial Muellerian ducts in full-grown male, Hill, J. P., 1893.
- Amphinomidae, n. sp., Haswell, 1878.
- Amphipoda, Haswell, 1879—Australian, Haswell, 1885.
- Amphipods, n. sp., Australia and Tasmania, Haswell, 1880.
